It is important to note that privacy practices may vary among the jurisdictions in which we operate to reflect local practices and legal requirements.

FACTS

WHAT DOES THE RIA DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

Why?	Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal, state and foreign law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. The RIA is required to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand our practices and if you have any questions or concerns, please contact us at dataprivacy@lument.com .
What?	The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service we provide to you. This information can include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ■ Social Security number and assets; ■ Account balances and transaction history; and ■ Investment experience and wire transfer instructions.
How?	All financial companies need to share customers' personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their customers' personal information; the reasons the RIA chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

Lument Investment Management, LLC

What we doHow does the RIA protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law (and in certain cases state law). These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.

How does the RIA collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you:

- give us your contact information;
- enter into an investment advisory contract or buy securities from us or an affiliate (e.g., invest in an RIA advised fund or other investment vehicle); and
- tell us where to send the money or make a wire transfer.

We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, or other companies.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

USA Federal law gives you the right to limit only:

- sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes – information about your creditworthiness;
- affiliates from using your information to market to you; and
- sharing for non-affiliates to market to you.

EU and USA State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.

What happens when I limit sharing for an account I hold jointly with someone else?

Your choices will apply to everyone on your account.
